

A Winter's Trapping

MY FIRST SILVER FOX

By O-G-E-MAS-ES (Little Clerk).

Skin currency, or made, have been scarce, which was a bad thing for me. Co. term, was invented by the Company for the convenience of trading with the Indians. A prime beaver was the standard and rated as a skin. Then ten muskrats were equal to a skin, a red fox one skin, a cross fox from two five skins or more, a bear from five to ten skins and so on. Then all the Indians in the trading store were piled in skins, always bearing in mind one of the strict rules of the Company, that essential articles such as blankets, ammunition, clothing, etc., were moderate in price, while beads, fancy shirts and neckties, etc., were high in price. Generally when an unsophisticated Indian came in with some furs, these were counted and valued by the clerk. We will say they came to forty skins, then forty goss-goss were handed him by the Indian. He would think this, then divide them up, such as five goss (representing five skins) for a blanket, four for ammunition, and so on. If you turn the matter pretty much, the whole business would have to be gone over again, as some important items would have been forgotten. So much for the skin way of trading, very dear to the heart of the older Indians, for it was an inevitable rule, and both before and after trading a small quantity, generally of two or three, was handed to him. With the introduction of the present currency system, or money, as it is styled in the north, all grannies were cut out and the Indians resented this extremely.

To return to fox trapping. I had told the story in detail of successful capture of a silver fox in many a camp, and on describing the small and well shaped tracks I had made, this the Indians said was characteristic of the better bred foxes. This is the cross, silver or black, while the ordinary red fox had a larger, broader foot; also I was told silver foxes were generally found in pairs, so I was naturally very keen to catch another. I will choose my own words, and will not seek to interfere with anyone, and except in one instance, which I am going to relate, never tracked a man all winter.

I had several fox traps set at the mouth of the Sturgeon River where it ran into a marshy lake, some nine miles from the north, and on going down to see these with my dog team, found one trap soon evidently new, but before I had time to get to it, I found I had picked up the track. I tied my dogs up, took off my cap and settled down for a heavy snow storm, and the dog team, which was deep, and held up by tangled grass and brush. Following the track carefully, about a mile away, some five days old, I saw a pair of foxes. Fox's first camp, a nice circular hole in the grass, with four rabbit feet in it, so evidently trap and all on his feet. Beyond that I saw tracks, and carefully examining his bed I detected several long black hairs, this was my own, I found my footprints and on I went at a hard pace for the thought of another silver fox was too good to be lost. I passed four more of fox camps in several of which were more rabbit remains, and at last caught sight of the fox, he was dragging the heavy trap, and evidently about played out, as his tongue was out, and no doubt he knew he was hunted. To my amazement and disgust he was as red as fire—a big dog fox, just worth one skin, and after trapping him on the head and looking him over, I noticed his tail was full of black hairs. Well I was very hungry, sooked with sweat and generally mad at the result, but I had to find my dog and get dinner as soon as possible. Fortunately I found we had been travelling in a circle, so in a short time I caught my silver fox, and he was lying for a place to bolt my kettle, when I caught sight of a smoke, very faint, some twenty miles to the north. Tying my dogs again I made for it, and approaching the spot very cautiously, found an Indian holding his little, black, hairy, and very fat, and very happy at my arrival. He was very excited. What was he doing here, and striding up I asked him. His reply was excessive and seemed very one happy at my arrival. He was holding something bulky on his thigh I took it, and found it was a silver fox. He told me he was the mate of my silver fox. I at once told him he had stolen it, for the villain had set a trap with his own hands. He said he evidently knew he had a poor case, for in a cringing tone he said, "Oh, Boss, you can take it, but what will the Big Boss say as I am heavy in debt to the company. I was in quandary, for as a rule clerks are not supposed to take any part in the business. I then threw the fox to him and with all the bad Indian terms I had acquired, abused him, his ancestors and his future generations. Finally, I told him he was the mate of my silver fox. Not so bad for a greenhorn, was it? They even sold for a greenhorn, was it? at trade prices, supply supplied my wants, and I was able that year to see all my princely salary of $275 per annum.

Celebrated Doctor's Fees

Quarter of a Million Dollars Biggest On Record.

The $50,000 fee said to have been paid to Dr. Debiat, the celebrated French surgeon, for attending the late King of Greece, and his family, as medical payments go, by no means establishes a record. Sir Morell Mackenzie received just about double that sum, $100,000 with a large gratuity and hotel expenses for attending Emperor Frederick of Germany. Dr. Mackenzie, of Vienna, who performed the "Cesarean," was paid $100,000 by the Emperor, the "Cesarean" being the little daughter of his daughter. But then he declined to accept Austria for four months over the job. Another bloodless surgeon, Dr. James Lusk, was offered a quarter of a million for his services in the Crimea, but he refused from launcheon, on the principle of "no cure, no pay." Such accepted the conditions, effected a complete and permanent cure, and received his fee—probably the biggest on record. The first Baron Dunsin, for a very brief attendance on the Emperor of Russia, received his fee, $80,000 in cash, an annuity of $2,500 a year for life and $50,000 for the expenses of his journey between London and Petrograd and back.

One of the largest malagnosy losses ever marketed turned out 17,000 feet of solid wood.

Power of Mad Mullah Is Broken

Complete Destruction of Native Rule's Power Is Reported.

Complete destruction of the power of "Mad Mullah," native ruler of Somaliland, Africa, and for 34 years a problem to British authorities, was accomplished within three weeks by less than 2000 men and eleven fighting planes, according to an official report on the operation, which was received here. Bunched out of their strongholds the natives were pursued, and all the leaders except Mullah captured or killed, the report stated.

The air expedition was sent out in 1919, but details were kept secret. It was the last of many punitive forces sent to Somaliland where continual uprisings have involved the British in military operations at frequent intervals since 1885.

The situation was so serious in 1919, the report stated, that some military action was necessary, but the Government hesitated because of the cost, estimated at $25,000,000 of despatching five thousand troops to the coast and sending them inland. The air force was called upon and 32 officers and 164 men in addition to the medical detachment set out.

An advance party consisting of engineers in search of oil, landed and set a base. Then the machines were used for four weeks. Mullah's stronghold in the interior was bombarded and shot up while the native camel corps cooperated looking a line about the coast.

The Mullah finally broke through these lines, heading south, and the soldiers pursued for two weeks more, but he was not caught. He was seen, scattering his stocks, and natives, destroying the power of the Mullah in the interior.

Thus the Mullah, for the first time in 34 years, was left in peaceful possession of his empire. Two casualties in the camel corps were the only British losses.

Squatters in Noted Austrian Gardens

Are Erecting Huts and Breaching Ground for Crops.

The famous Laxen-Tiergarten, on the edge of Vienna, Austria, has been taken possession of by squatters, and where once the royal sages and nobles fattened on rich meadows and under splendid oaks, huts are being erected and ground is being broken for crops.

One of the remedial measures suggested is the removal of the old vine which grows a dense thicket. Here it is possible also that a new subsidiary channel may be cut in the floodplain, or as of the Lower Slave River to be controlled by gates and to be called into use when the waters reach a dangerous height.

The other project is to be ready to proceed with and likely to be commenced next summer are the Winagat and Cuyet Lake drainage and damming projects. Both of these lakes have been fully surveyed and that everything is ready for carrying out early in the season if the Ottawa authorities so decide.

A large area of good farming land will be opened up in each case.

It is the business of the Reclamation Branch to continue its survey in other parts of the province and in Northern Saskatchewan, the latter forming part of the field covered by Mr. Tempest and his staff. Full instructions for the season's operations will be passed after the survey figure has been forwarded here in October.

Shifting of Mountains

Geological Phenomena Observed With Alarm by Californian Professor.

The mountains of the coast range in the vicinity of San Francisco, are moving slowly northward, causing enormous earth strain and producing tremors in one of which Mount Tamalpais jumped back 6.6 feet, according to Professor A. C. Lawson, of the University of California, in a lecture given recently by him. Mount Hamilton, near San Jose, he said, moved northward at the rate of four feet a year, from 1863 to 1904, but Dr. Lawson had a laboratory continued at the rate of 2.2 feet.

Acts And Agriculture.

A concrete act in the agriculture has been authorized by the Senate of the University of Alberta. A student taking this course having successfully passing for the first time, may secure both degrees, B.A. and B.S., in six years. During the first two years the course will consist of work in the faculty. After the third year the instruction of science, subjects and the last three years will be in the faculty of agriculture. These also include work in English, mathematics and political economy.

Reclamation Work in Northern Alberta

Conducting Extensive Surveys and Observations in Northern Part of Province.

The Reclamation Branch of the Department of the Interior are conducting extensive surveys and observations in the northern part of the province, with a view of providing relief and protection from the overflow waters from the lakes, particularly Lesser Slave Lake.

Mr. J. S. Tempest, chief engineer of the Reclamation Branch, who left Edmonton for Ottawa to report on his work connected with the survey carried on throughout Northern Alberta. He will be before the government the schemes he has in mind and when he returns to his post in April he will be in a position to carry out the project agreed upon.

Lesser Slave Lake is one of the largest sources of trouble in the north country and extensive improvements have been found necessary to keep back the overflow waters. Considerable damage to property has been caused by the heavy floods of the spring when the water has risen eight feet above its normal level.

The necessity of some protective measures to the property of the settlers, therefore is apparent to the latter Department.

One of the remedial measures suggested is the removal of the old vine which grows a dense thicket. Here it is possible also that a new subsidiary channel may be cut in the floodplain, or as of the Lower Slave River to be controlled by gates and to be called into use when the waters reach a dangerous height.

Wants Human Body Transplant.

A Russian physician, Dr. Waldoff, has announced the discovery of a fluid which renders the human body biologically immortal. He has succeeded in the same manner also become transparent, he says, but apparently were otherwise unaffected. Before the war Dr. Waldoff had a laboratory in Petrograd, but he is at present living in Paris. He refuses to divulge the secret of his fluid, which is a combination of a number of liquids.

To Pay By Weight.

The Lawson Airplane Company, when it begins its Chicago-New York passenger and mail service next May, will charge passengers according to their weight. Alfred W. Lawson, president of the company, announced. Provision has been made for carrying passengers to the approximate weight of 4000 pounds. Mr. Lawson said. No standard percentage of a passenger has yet been fixed.

The Taj Mahal at Agra is the World's Most Celebrated Mausoleum.

Built of white marble and inlaid with precious stones, it cost $100,000,000, and 20,000 men were occupied twenty years in the building of it.

Disarmament Question Is Occupying Attention Of U. S. Government

Disarmament has focused the attention of both branches of the United States Congress recently and the general public as well and there appears to be a well-defined desire in the United States that the nation should take a step in that direction to relieve the people of the heavy burden of taxation which it entails. Three resolutions on the subject have been introduced by the various congressmen to which they were referred before going before either the Senate or House of Representatives for final action. The policy of the incoming Republican administration under President Harding with respect to disarmament has not been definitely determined and it is not likely they will take shape until the new administration has taken charge.

The movement started just over a month ago with the presentation of a joint resolution by Senator Wilson, of Montana, one of the ablest legal minds in the United States, and a Democratic leader, expressed the earnest desire of the United States Government to cooperate with the League of Nations in its effort to secure disarmament.

Representative Brockley, of Illinois, Republican, also introduced in the House, a resolution authorizing the President to call an international conference to consider projects for the limitation and reduction of armaments. There also have been received by Congress a number of petitions from various peace organizations and peace advocates urging Congress to forward this great object.

Films For the Farms

Keep the Farm Laborer Satisfied by Means of Rural Motion Picture Theatres.

John Armstrong, Chief harrow yet to prove to be the sower of that most perplexing problem: How to keep help on the farms. He thinks that the motion picture is the answer and that is the pioneer in a movement to keep the farm laborer satisfied by means of rural motion picture theatres at the farm.

He says that the first of these theatres has been fitted up at a cowshed as a motion picture theatre on his estate near Chatham, Virginia. Here he is giving the farmer free screen entertainment, and the innovation is proving successful. How Land Values Increase

Twenty Dollar Land Will Soon Be Worth $100 An Acre.

Spreading at a banquet rendered last at Lloydminster in honor of his success in winning a large tract of land in the Cypress Lake class with his station, "We Don't," Levi Weaver said that what he had done could be done by any other farmer who strove after perfection in his product. "Land in the district, which today could be bought for $20 an acre, would soon be quoted at $100 an acre," Mr. Weaver added, "if farmers would constantly strive to better their methods."

The banquet was attended by the ministers and deputy minister of agriculture of Saskatchewan and Alberta, as well as many prominent business men from all over the country and more than two hundred farmers from the surrounding country.

Possible Ancestor of Man.

The skull of an animal which, as shown by the teeth, unambiguously belongs to the group which includes ourselves and monkeys, and which may therefore be that of an ancestor of man, has been dug up by the Smithsonian Institution in Central Montana. But the Institute believes the animal was not a monkey. So far as it is known these never were any monkeys living in what is now the United States.

Disarmament. He undertook to demonstrate that the invitation might well have been accepted without in any way committing the United States to support of League resolutions, which thought was in the presidential mind. His resolution was referred to the committee on Foreign Relations. It had where it was being considered with others on the same subject.

Not long afterwards Senator Borah, the passionate Republican "litterateur," from Idaho, who has been fighting the League at every turn, introduced a resolution directing the President to take up with the governments of Great Britain and Japan the question of disarmament with the purpose of securing an agreement to reduce their naval building program fifty per cent. within a period of five years.

Senator Borah said he was brought to offer resolutions by the same Premier Uchiwa, of Japan, had publicly stated that "the Japanese Government could not even consent to consider a program of disarmament on account of the building program of the United States."

Representative Brockley, of Illinois, Republican, also introduced in the House, a resolution authorizing the President to call an international conference to consider projects for the limitation and reduction of armaments. There also have been received by Congress a number of petitions from various peace organizations and peace advocates urging Congress to forward this great object.

Was Man Born in the Sea?

Scientific Argument Would Seem to Bear Out This Theory.

At a recent meeting of the French association for the advancement of science, a curious argument was brought forward in support of the theory that life, as we know it, had its origin in the sea.

It was pointed out that at four o'clock in the afternoon the temperature of the normal human body is about 99.3 degrees. At four o'clock in the morning it is about 97.2 degrees, a variation of more than two degrees. There is an exact parallel in the temperature of the sea, which also has its maximum at 4 p.m. and its minimum at 4 a.m. Moreover, it is estimated that the pre-historic ocean, known to have been warmer than the sea today, at the time life began to appear temperatures equivalent to those of the human body, in the sea.

The degree of warmth of our bodies is in part influenced by other climate, food, sleep, or activity, or any other conditions of the individual in his environment. Accordingly it is suggested that we have inherited that unvarying temperature from the pre-historic roll out of the sea, and that we have adapted to adjust itself to the physical conditions of the waters in which it lived.

Would Send Canadian Exhibit

Want Canada Represented at the World Poultry Congress.

That the Canadian National Poultry Association has applied to the department of agriculture for a grant to cover the expenses of sending a Canadian delegation and exhibit, to include the Canadian, the only truly Canadian food, in the world poultry congress, to be held in the Hague in September next, is the interesting announcement made by Dr. Buxton, president of the association. Dr. Buxton said that he had every hope the request would be favorably received, and that Canada would be able to show its poultry at this most important congress.

ADVERTISING VIEWPOINT

The advertising manager of The Calgary Press Company has some ideas on advertising that might startle many business men. He says that advertising is not selling merchandise but buying good will and confidence from the public. He maintains that the man who plans advertising for direct results has nothing after the sale is over. He says: We either look upon advertising as an immediate effect and we have in mind the reputation of the big man. We're by find it takes from ten to fifteen years to build character and ability that is recognized by the public. We believe that advertising is cumulative and takes time—Marketing.

News of CARSELAND and District

COMMUNITY HALL MEETING

The meeting on Saturday last in the interest of the Community Hall was well attended, and those present showed no slacking of interest in the proposition. In fact, there was evinced a greater and more intelligent interest than at any previous meeting. Estimates on the building were presented, a scheme of financing adopted for trial, and a committee appointed to canvass the District to see if the proposed scheme is feasible. The proposed building is 26,000 feet full basement, furnace, electric wiring, stage, dressing rooms, ante rooms, ticket office, inside balcony. The building is to be metal finish, both inside and out. The estimate on land is a little over $5,000, everything included.

The scheme of financing proposed is to get the full cost subscribed as follows: 50 per cent cash on demand, and 40 per cent by bankable notes, 50 per cent of which is payable on Dec. 1st, 1922, the notes to bear 8 per cent interest.

The building is to be organized as a joint stock company, and the shares to be $10.00 each.

The work of the finance committee is to be carried out during the present week. It is possible to report at a meeting on Saturday afternoon, the 26th, as to whether or not the scheme is feasible. The C.P.A. is being asked to change the hour of their meeting from 2 p.m. to 2 p.m. for this purpose.

It will be patent to all concerned that the present week is a crucial one for the interest of the Hall, as it will decide one way or the other as to the possibility of a Hall at this time, and everyone who has the interest of the Community at heart will put in an anxious week.

It has come to be believed that a Hall is a necessity to the social and educational life of the Community, and such a belief is pretty well founded; and there is nothing like a stern sense of urgency to stir men and women to right and prompt action. But it is not only a necessity for the present but such a hall holds tremendous opportunities and possibilities for the future. And these opportunities and possibilities constitute a duty, and give a sense of necessity and duty, and remains but the will to accomplish, to be brought to bear on the problem. Let us each put the (1) into the will and it can and will be done.

Member for This District May Leave Opposition

It is understood that he is lining up with Mr. Hoadley on the subject of joining hands with the Farmers' party, as Mr. Davis, like Mr. Hoadley, is a farmer and rancher. It was announced in all legislative circles Monday night that W. M. Davidson, government member from North Calgary, had also decided to quit the government ranks and move his seat around to the cross benches. The reason given for this was the bitter fight that Davidson had indulged in with Hon. George F. B. Smith, minister of education. After the extremely hostile remarks Mr. Davidson had made in his newspaper concerning the government minister, it was regarded as impossible that the North Calgary member would follow Mr. Smith's leadership on anything. "I am still a Liberal," was the reply given by Mr. Davidson, however, Tuesday morning, when he was asked whether he contemplated changing his seat to the cross benches. "Anyway," concluded Mr. Davidson, "the government won't let anyone move to the cross benches."

Selkirk, Man.—The manufacture of building felt for building and dwellings from flax and gravel straw is now an accomplished fact and an increasing utilization will be made of the flax straw piles of Western Canada, which hitherto had no economic value. The factory of the Canadian Insulation Company, Ltd., has been completed at this point and is producing felt for building and dwellings from flax and gravel straw.

An Old Time Dance was held in the I.O.O.F. Hall on Friday evening and notwithstanding the inclement weather a good crowd attended and spent a most enjoyable time.

THE LIQUOR SITUATION

Recent press reports have indicated that the Alberta Moderation League are circulating petitions which will request the Legislature in this Province to amend the present Liquor Act so as to "permit of the sale of light beer and liquor for family use."

In view of this action of the Moderation League it is very essential that the public be reminded of certain facts which are very likely to be forgotten. The Liquor Act which was enacted by the Provincial Parliament the 19th day of April, 1916, came into being under an Act of the Provincial Legislature commonly known as the "50 per cent" Liquor Act. This Act passed on the 19th day of April, 1916, gave the Legislature the privilege of direct legislation on any measure they desired but under very strict regulations. These regulations demanded that the petition of the total votes polled at the general provincial election then last held, also that the petition must be signed by at least 8 per cent of the votes polled at the last election and in at least 85 per cent of the electoral divisions.

At the time that these regulations were put in the Direct Legislation Act there was considerable objection as to the severe requirements in securing the said number of votes. Nevertheless the Alberta Temperance and Moral Reform League, as the organization was then called, undertook with considerable expense and much effort to carry out these regulations in letter as well as in spirit. On October 12th, 1916 a large deputation of the League waited on the Government with a large petition signed by not 20 per cent but by 27.52 per cent of the votes cast in the previous election. While only 85 per cent of the constituencies with an 8 per cent of the vote was demanded the petition presented an 85 per cent vote in over 90 per cent of the constituencies.

It will be seen therefore that the Liquor Act came into existence under certain legal requirements enacted by the Provincial Government. It is hereby shown that these requirements were filled behind the letter with considerable to spare. It is scarcely necessary to say the Liquor Act cannot be repealed except upon a similar petition by those desiring its repeal.

Another thing must also be made clear that the Liquor Act cannot be amended so as to interfere with the general purpose of the Act without a vote of the people. Clause number seven of the Direct Legislation Act says that no amendments shall be presented except those "certified to" by the Speaker as not constituting a substantial alteration therein, or as not changing the meaning, intent or effect thereof. It also says that the Lieutenant Governor-in-Council may make legislation not inconsistent with this Act for the proper carrying out of its provisions.

It will be therefore clearly seen that the present attempts of the Moderation League to secure signatures from every man, woman and child (without

GROWING TREES ON THE PRAIRIE

Undoubtedly there are more difficulties just with in raising trees on the prairie than there are to be found in the eastern provinces. In the first place the rainfall is very limited. Second, the trees have to withstand a great deal of exposure to storms and extremes of temperature. Third, the prairie soil as we now find it, after years of exposure to the elements, is so compact and hard that it is difficult to be specially prepared before it is for tree growth. None of these conditions is, however, of such a nature as to make the raising of trees an impossibility, and by following out certain methods which are now being used by results already obtained, tree growing on the prairie can be made not only successful and, perhaps, even more certain than wheat raising. (Bulletin No. 1 Dominion Forestry Branch, Ottawa.)

consideration whether they are quoted (either voters or not) now in the province and present even a large petition of such signatures to the Provincial Government would be futile, as a basis for legislative action or to secure the amendment of a change in the Liquor Act. If such a petition as is proposed were presented it would ask for the sale of intoxicating liquors as a beverage throughout the Province. To grant such petition would be to completely annul the fundamental principle of the Liquor Act. While it may be argued that this is the case, it is passed many amendments have been only for the more effective carrying out of the main provisions of the Act.

The Oil Pull is First—There Is No Second

YOU find two great outstanding facts when you examine the records of all the official tractor tests or demonstrations conducted, beginning with the Winnipeg tractor contest held in 1912.

First—the Rumely Oil Pull is easily the blue ribbon winner for economy of fuel consumption. Its record of 7 pounds of kerosene per brake horsepower has never been equaled in public demonstrations by any other kerosene burning tractor, before or since.

Second—no other tractor has been able to prove by consecutive tests that it is entitled to the rank of a consistent second to the Oil Pull.

There is but one tractor choice when you look for low fuel cost—the guaranteed in writing Rumely Oil Pull.

And coupled with this, the Oil Pull possesses a degree of power, dependability, ease of handling and long life that has made it the choice of over 15,000 Oil Pull owners.

And every day these satisfied owners are demonstrating on their farms the same Oil Pull economy and dependability that public tests have shown.

There's a size fit your farm—from 3-hp to 10-hp—12-20, 16-30, 18-40 and 30-60 H. P.

DAIRYMEN VISIT STRATHMORE

To investigate at first hand the results of sunflower ensilage feeding to cattle, about seventy dairymen who have been in convention here this week visited the C.P.R. farm at Strathmore Friday afternoon, under the direction of George H. Hutton, superintendent of the animal husbandry branch of the C.P.R. department of natural resources. The party came down on the afternoon train and returned the same evening. Mr. Hutton gave them every facility for examining the silos and the cattle that have been on the sunflower ensilage. The tables of tests, results and all other records in connection with the using of sunflower plants for fodder were available to the visitors.

Sunflower ensilage has received a tremendous impetus in the last two years in Alberta as a consequence of the success of Mr. Hutton's experiments at Strathmore. At the dairymen's convention, Wednesday, Frank Cutler told the delegates that sunflower growing had proved highly satisfactory in the Edmonton district. The crop had stood the frost and the yield was twice as large as that of corn. Rev. Mr. Morrow, of Medicine Hat who is a farmer as well as a minister of the gospel reported that a neighbor had produced a fine crop of sunflowers on ten acres in a dry year, and was now feeding 20 cows with the ensilage.

Paying-Up Time

While many subscriptions expire at different months of the year, it is at this time that we expect a general settling up of subscription accounts—those numerous things that do not mean much to the individual but which total to a great deal when all combined, and which total of dollars is most necessary under present conditions to the newspaper man to meet the ever mounting cost of supplies and productions.

Prices in the newspaper line are still going up. Before the war a ton of news print paper could be bought for $35. Until recently the price was fairly stable at $250 a ton, but within the last month another raise of $30 per ton—a raise alone almost equal to the original cost of a whole ton—has taken place. If ever the newspapers of Canada needed immediate settlement of accounts, it is now.

We have always been able to count on our subscribers doing their part and we feel that this year they will not fail us in coming in at once with their renewals.

A CITY PLANT IN THE COUNTRY

Cities claim advantage over the country in the matter of manufacturing facilities. Printing is a manufacturing business, and for that reason city plants claim that they can do work more cheaply and efficiently than the country printing office.

That may be true as regards some towns, but not as regards Strathmore. The Strathmore and Bow Valley Standard has a fully equipped and modern plant, which includes Intertype typesetting machine, large cylinder printing press with capacity of from 1200 to 2000 per hour, platen press, folder, stitcher, etc., all operated by power. We have our own electric generating plant.

We can therefore meet all demands made on us for any kind of job printing, and meet the prices of any city house. Our prices are the same as Winnipeg, plus freight.

We pay mailing and express charges on jobs for customers in the Bow Valley district, and outside orders can be filled in a day's time, if necessary.

We specialise in Looseleaf Work, and supply account sheets for all kinds. We are also agents for one of the best line of Counter Check Books.

Every description of Commercial Printing Efficiently Executed. You don't pay travellers' expenses when you deal with us.

VALLEY GARDENS

A most successful evening of the Valley Gardens Community came to place in the Valley Gardens indoor hall on Friday evening, February 11th. The entertainment took the form of a pie social, and the room was appropriately decorated in connection with St. Valentine's Day with paper streamers and garlands hung from which were suspended many hours of the same colour.

The first amusement of the evening was a short whist drive, the players being presented with decorative Valentine valley cards made by the school children. The winners of the first prize were Mrs. Otto and Mr. Carlson, while the winners of the ladies' trophy prize, Miss Lillian Lombardy, was presented with a black posy and Mr. Herbert Griffith was so fortunate as to acquire the corresponding gentleman's prize, a red rose posy.

After the card game the following excellent programme was rendered: Song, "Mickey" Everybody leading. "The Modern Belle"

Edna Kenworthy Accordion Solo, Edwin Kenworthy Reading: "Almost a Tragedy"

Miss Tector Song, (in costume) "When Father Came Home Sober", Mr. Lambert Duet: "You Can't Play in My Yard"

The Lombardy Griffin Solo, H. Griffith Reading, John Cameron Guitar Solo, Mr. O. Otto Duet, "Life's Dream is Over"

Mrs. Thurston and Miss Tector. Immediately after the programme, the pies, of all varieties, were produced, and Mr. Thurston took the floor, and in a n able and emotional manner disposed of them, after which the purchasers did their best to discover them. At this point a great deal of inactivity was exhibited in conveying refreshments from pie plates to mouths as there was a deficiency of cutlery, but the humorous remarks uttered were adequate recompense for the discomfort.
